7 DISTRICT OF NEVADA

9 JOHN STEVEN OLAUSEN,

Case No. 3:15-cv-00525-MMD-VPC

10 Petitioner,

ORDER

11 v.

12 ISIDRO BACA, et al.,

13 Respondents.

14 This closed action is a pro se petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed pursuant to 15 28 U.S.C. § 2254 by a Nevada state prisoner.

16 By order filed October 21, 2015, the Court dismissed this action without prejudice 17 because petitioner failed to submit a proper application to proceed in forma pauperis.
18 (ECF No. 4.) Judgment was entered on October 21, 2015. (ECF No. 5.)

19 On November 24, 2015, the Court granted petitioner's motion for relief from the 20 order dismissing his case because of his failure to submit a proper in forma pauperis
21 application. (ECF No. 8.) In the same order, the Court dismissed this case as a 22 successive petition. Judgment was entered on November 24, 2015. (ECF No. 9.)
23 Petitioner has filed a motion seeking reconsideration of the Court's order of November 24, 2015. (ECF No. 10.)

25 Where a ruling has resulted in final judgment or order, a motion for 26 reconsideration may be construed either as a motion to alter or amend judgment 27 pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 59(e), or as a motion for relief from 28 judgment pursuant to Federal Rule 60(b). School Dist. No. 1J Multnomah County v.

1       AC&S, Inc., 5 F.3d 1255, 1262 (9th Cir. 1993), cert. denied 512 U.S. 1236 (1994). Under 2       Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b) the court may relieve a party from a final judgment or order for the 3       following reasons:

4                   (1) mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect; (2) newly 5       discovered evidence, that, with reasonable diligence, could not have been 6       discovered in time to move for a new trial under Rule 59(b); (3) fraud 7       (whether previously called intrinsic or extrinsic), misrepresentation, or 8       other misconduct by an opposing party; (4) the judgment is void; (5) the 9       judgment has been satisfied, released or discharged; it is based on an 10      earlier judgment that has been reversed or vacated; or applying it 11      prospectively is no longer equitable; or (6) any other reason that justifies 12      relief.

13       A district court has discretion not to consider claims and issues that were not 14      raised until a motion for reconsideration. Hopkins v. Andaya, 958 F.2d 881, 889 (9th Cir.
 15      1992). It is not an abuse of discretion to refuse to consider new arguments in a Rule 16      60(b) motion even though “dire consequences” might result. Schanen v. United States 17      Dept. of Justice, 762 F.2d 805, 807-08 (9th Cir. 1985). Moreover, motions for 18      reconsideration are not justified on the basis of new evidence which could have been 19      discovered prior to the court’s ruling. Hagerman v. Yukon Energy Corp., 839 F.3d 407, 20      413-14 (8th Cir. 1988); see also E.E.O.C. v. Foothills Title, 956 F.2d 277 (10th Cir. 1992).

21       A “habeas petitioner may move for relief from the denial of habeas under Rule 22      60(b) so long as the motion is not the equivalent of a successive petition.” *Harvest v.
 23      Castro*, 531 F.3d 737, 745 (9th Cir. 2008) (citing Gonzales v. Crosby, 545 U.S. 524, 535-24      36 (2005)). Mere disagreement with an order is an insufficient basis for reconsideration.
 25      Nor should reconsideration be used to make new arguments or ask the Court to rethink 26      its analysis. See N.W. Acceptance Corp. v. Lynnwood Equip., Inc., 841 F.2d 918, 925-
 27      26 (9th Cir. 1988).

28       Rule 59(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides that any “motion to 29      alter or amend a judgment shall be filed no later than 28 days after entry of the 30      judgment.” Furthermore, a motion under Fed. R. Civ. P. 59(e) “should not be granted, 31      absent highly unusual circumstances, unless the district court is presented with newly 32      discovered evidence, committed clear error, or if there is an intervening change in the

1 controlling law." Herbst v. Cook, 260 F.3d 1039, 1044 (9th Cir. 2001), quoting McDowell
2 v. Calderon, 197 F.3d 1253, 1255 (9th Cir. 1999). Federal courts have determined that 3 there are four grounds for granting a Rule 59(e) motion: (1) the motion is necessary to 4 correct manifest errors of law or fact upon which the judgment is based; (2) the moving 5 party presents newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence; (3) the motion is 6 necessary to prevent manifest injustice; or (4) there is an intervening change in 7 controlling law. Turner v. Burlington Northern Santa Fe R. Co., 338 F.3d 1058 (9th Cir.
8 2003).

9 In the instant case, this Court properly entered judgment dismissing this action as 10 a successive petition in the order filed December 7, 2015. (ECF No. 8.) In his motion for 11 reconsideration, petitioner has not identified any mistake, intervening change in 12 controlling law, or other factor that would require vacating the judgment. Petitioner has 13 not shown that manifest injustice resulted from dismissal of the action. Petitioner also 14 has not presented newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence. Petitioner has 15 failed to make an adequate showing under either Rule 59(e) or Rule 60(b) to justify 16 granting his motion for reconsideration.

17 It is therefore ordered that petitioner's motion for reconsideration (ECF No. 10) is 18 denied.

19 It is further ordered that, because reasonable jurists would not find the dismissal 20 of a successive petition to be debatable or wrong, a certificate of appealability is denied.

21 DATED THIS 6th day of September 2016.
